E. Lexicon

The lexicon that will be presented in class will be linked to content-oriented topics and will reflect basic technical terminology. The purpose is to provide students with the necessary, although basic, terminological knowledge they will need in more advanced academic studies in English.

F. Objectives

Students need to achieve the B1 Level (CEFR), as shown by the descriptors (Council of Europe 2001) for A2 and B1 below:

General language (synthetic descriptors)

A2	Can understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment). Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters. Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.
B1	Can understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc. Can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken. Can produce simple connected text on topics which are familiar or of personal interest. Can describe experiences and events, dreams, hopes & ambitions and briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans.

General language (detailed descriptors)

	RANGE	ACCURACY	FLUENCY	INTERACTION	COHERENCE
A2	Uses basic sentence patterns with memorised phrases, groups of a few words and formulae in order to communicate limited information in simple everyday situations.	Uses some simple structures correctly, but still systematically makes basic mistakes.	Can make him/herself understood in very short utterances, even though pauses, false starts and reformulation are very evident.	Can answer questions and respond to simple statements. Can indicate when he/she is following but is rarely able to understand enough to keep conversation going of his/her own accord.	Can link groups of words with simple connectors like "and," "but" and "because".

B1	Has enough language to get by, with sufficient vocabulary to express him/herself with some hesitation and circumlocutions on topics such as family, hobbies and interests, work, travel, and current events.	Uses reasonably accurately a repertoire of frequently used "routines" and patterns associated with more predictable situations.	Can keep going comprehensibly, even though pausing for grammatical and lexical planning and repair is very evident, especially in longer stretches of free production.	Can initiate, maintain and close simple face-to-face conversation on topics that are familiar or of personal interest. Can repeat back part of what someone has said to confirm mutual understanding.	Can link a series of shorter, discrete simple elements into a connected, linear sequence of points.

Academic language (synthetic descriptors)

		A 2	B 1
C O M P R E H E N S I O N	Listening	Can understand the global content of a conversation taking place in the classroom or during group work. I can understand the main points of short and simple messages concerning my field of study	Can understand the main points and identify detailed information in a speech related to a specific context.
	Reading	Can understand the global content of a specialised text from the title and the headings and I can check my prediction through reading. I can understand the content of a short and simple narrative text.	Can understand the global message of a text in a specific text and identify the typical textual structure. I can understand the meaning of unknown words using a monolingual dictionary.
S P E A K I N G	Oral Interaction	Can answer questions related to specialised texts by using simple expressions. I can interact on simple topics during the lesson or group work.	Can formulate appropriate questions and answers on topics related to the lessons.
	Oral Production	Can describe my academic or working experience using simple expressions.	Can describe the topic of the lesson using simple and coherent sentences. I can express opinions regarding the topic of the lesson.
W R I T I N G	Written production	Can take simple notes during the lesson. I can write a short and simple message (e.g.: memo, fax, e-mail).	Can take notes of the most relevant information of an oral or written communication and I can write a simple text according to a given model (e.g.: CV).

G. CLA-OLA Level Test B1 level (CEFR, Council of Europe 2001, updated 2017)

B. Speaking Competence Test (SCT)

The Speaking Competence Test is an optional but highly recommended test for students of all Degree Courses¹. The SCT gives students the opportunity to achieve a final Level of competence beyond B1 (CEFR, Council of Europe, 2001) if their performance is accurate and fluent.

Students are asked to show ability in the following aspects:

- Carry out a short conversation on personal study skills, cultural interests and future plans;

¹ The SCT is compulsory for students belonging to the Department of Civil Engineering as per departmental request.

- Express opinions on a topic covered in class (the topic will be selected at random from a set of many);
- Provide a short description of a photo selected at random from a set of many;
- Express opinions on the meaningfulness of self-study activities;
- Self-assess their end-of-term language competences.
